CARTER RESIGNS

HAS SENT HIS RESIGNATION ON TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND WILL PROCEED TO WASHINGTON SHORTLY TO TALK MATTER OVER—DENIES THAT ELECTION OF BROWN TO OAHU SHRIEVALTY HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH IT.

Governor George R. Carter has forwarded his resignation to President Roosevelt. The document went forward to Washington on Wednesday's mail, the day after A. M. Brown was elected Sheriff of Oahu despite the Governor's opposition. Carter denies that Brown's election had anything to do with the course he has taken.

The Governor has communicated with the President by cable and will leave for Washington in a few days to talk over the matter with the Chief Executive.

The Advertiser, whose controlling owner, Lorrin A. Thurston, has been one of those with whom the governor has advised regarding his resignation, publishes the following this morning as the Governor's statement regarding his resignations and his motives for it.

"I have advised President Roosevelt to accept my resignation, and have urged him to select my successor," said the Governor. "I had made up my mind to say nothing of this until Secretary Atkinson came back, but I cannot see that any particular purpose will be served by further silence. My mind is made up, and my worries are over."

"I have not been led to take this step because of the election of A. M. Brown to the shrievalty of the County of Oahu. My action is the culmination of a long series of events not necessary to be recapitulated at this time."

"My resignation was written, as a matter of fact, on June 6. I showed it to one or two of my friends, and they asked me to take time for reconsideration before acting finally, to be sure that it was not an impulse. I have taken time, and have only been the more determined to take the course that I had marked out for myself."

"In accordance with that determination, I wrote to the President by the last steamer, enclosing my resignation, which I begged him to accept."

"As I have said this is merely the culmination of a long series of events, which have led me to the conclusion that I can be of more service to the Territory out of the gubernatorial chair than in it."

"The President, of course, has not received all my letters with reference to this matter, but I have had some cable correspondence with him, and have received his permission to come on to Washington and discuss the matter with him. I will leave on the next Alameda, and go directly to Washington. And I shall urge President Roosevelt to accept my resignation."

"I have suggested the name of nobody for the succession. It is not for me to do that, but for the President. As to Secretary Atkinson it is unfortunate that he is too young to hold the place under the law. But there should be no lack of good men in Hawaii for the Governorship. I have never had the idea that I was essential to the needs of the Territory."

"I shall be glad, personally, to lay down the cares of the office."

The Advertiser also publishes interviews with a number of prominent citizens, nearly all of them personal and political friends of the Governor. While the Governor says that he has not been led to this step by the election of A. M. Brown, it will be observed that practically everyone of his friends, in their interviews, assume that it was. Some of these interviews follow:

W. R. Castle is quoted as saying:

"I think the Governor has made a great mistake. I think there is very much less feeling than he imagines and there is not the real condemnation that he thinks the result of the election shows. If he had waited a few days I think that he would have become convinced that he was playing into the hands of an element that none of us wish to have come to the surface. I think that it will also have a bad effect in Washington. The administration will think that Carter gave up too easily and a reappointment by President Roosevelt of Governor Carter would not add to his honor or dignity or comfort. I think that his friends as well as his enemies here would have thought in such a case that he had made a melodramatic move and that I do not think he intends. I regret it very much indeed and I believe that the community on the whole will have the same feeling. Any such move tends to disturb both political, social and commercial conditions, and he ought to have considered that fairly before resigning."

The Advertiser says:

"W. O. Smith stated that he felt that nothing had occurred which warranted the Governor in taking this action. In the recent election there had been an honest difference of opinion between the Governor and some of the Republican leaders and business men of Honolulu, but it was a conscientious difference and was upon a minor point. He considered that the Governor had practically the unanimous support of the business and conservative interests of the islands, and he hoped the President would not accept the Governor's resignation."

W. A. Bowen is quoted as saying:

"I feel that so far as we in Honolulu are concerned we have cause to feel genuine disappointment. For, to my mind, the simple fact that his ideas did not prevail, need not have kept him from doing a great deal for the public welfare just as he has done in the past. I feel sure that so far as our own home relations are concerned I do not understand his action, but, of course, he knows what his relations are with the President of the United States, who is at the head of the Republican party, and it may be that, taking into account the fact that his views

GARNISHEE DISCHARGED.

Judge De Bolt yesterday rendered a decision discharging the garnishee in the case of the Kaneohe Ranch Company vs. L. Ahlo and the Royal Insurance Company, garnishee. The suit is for $3856 alleged to be due for rent and taxes on Nuuanu street property. The decision sustains a lien held by Grinbaum and Company on the funds of defendant.

MODERATE WEALTH.

Moderate wealth is defined by a magazine writer as "an annual income of not less than $2,000 nor more than $10,000 a year." If this is correct a lot of moderately wealthy people are today in straitened circumstances.—Chicago Record-Herald.
